The screenshot shows the ScienceDirect article page. At the top, there are four buttons: 'View PDF', 'Download PDF' (highlighted with a red box and a red arrow), 'Article Linker', and 'Access through another institution'. Below the buttons, the article title 'Or constructions, argumentative direction and disappearing 'alternativity'' is displayed, along with the author 'Mira Ariel' and the journal 'Language Sciences, Volume 81, September 2020, 101195'. A blue arrow points from the 'Download PDF' button to the 'Full text access' dialog box on the right.

The 'Full text access' dialog box contains the following text: 'You have requested access to the following article:', followed by a grey box containing the article title 'Or constructions, argumentative direction and disappearing 'alternativity'', the journal 'Language Sciences, Volume 81, September 2020', and the author 'Mira Ariel'. Below this, it says 'Please select "Continue" to access this article under your organization's agreement with Elsevier.' There are two buttons: 'Cancel' and 'Continue >' (highlighted with a red box and a red arrow). At the bottom, a 'Privacy Note' states: 'Your email address will be made viewable to your organization's administrator in the transaction statement'.
